

Dear Trauma and Critical Care Product Vendors,

The Delaware Emergency Nurses Association is pleased to announce their annual emergency nursing education in Delaware. Last year, we had over 110 professional attendees who enjoyed the conference. This year's Symposium 2019 will take place on, November 08, 2019. The planners of this program would like to welcome back those that attended last year and extend our welcome to those that would like to attend for the first time. This seminar will be offered to healthcare providers including physicians, nurses, and pre-hospital personnel in Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. The anticipated attendance is again around 110 professionals.

In light of current healthcare financial trends, we are attempting to minimize the cost to facilities and professionals wishing to attend this event. To help us meet this goal we are seeking support from corporations, such as yours, for this educational activity. Support may be given in any number of ways:

- Educational Grant funds
- Sponsorship of the Conference
- Vendor Displays
- Assistance with refreshment or meal expenses

Vendor exhibition tables will be available, with time provided during the day for seminar participants to circulate. Vendor table fees will be $250. The above fee will provide a free meal ticket for one participant. If more than one representative is sent, then $50.00 must be paid for food and beverages prior to the Symposium, with no exceptions. PayPal will be available this year on the website for payment if you choose to use. A block of hotel rooms at the Dover Downs Hotel and Casino are available at a reduced rate (mention Delaware Emergency Nurses Association), provided you make your reservations by no later than October 8, 2019.

If your organization would like to be a part of this educational event, please contact me:
